Try this (if you haven't)...

In word under the review tab, click tracking, then click the little nub in the lower right corner of the panel that opened.

Then click advanced options and the top panel of the new window is called "Markup." You want Color for inserts and deletes to be "By Author."

I'm not fully finished with revising the draft, but here's the most up to date version. Also – I haven't touched the compliance section.

I also was not able to put a different color for my edits versus WF's edits.

As you'll find, I've accepted some of WF's edits in the opening sections.

I kept in dispute resolution and force majeure sections.

I want to get feedback from you on the two crossed out paragraphs before the definitions section -- waiver of paperwork reduction act and ex parte.

I'll bring my computer so we can go through this together at 10:00.

Thanks,
Laura
